Jack Mountain Program Course
D. Learning Objectives/Written Paper

Within three weeks of completing the course, you must e-mail your paper to Layne Nelson extendedstudies@western.edu. Your paper must contain an overview of your course and address the five objectives listed below.

To help you in this process, it is recommended that you keep a detailed journal during your course which tracks your thoughts and experiences in each of the objectives. This paper is not meant to be a meaningless administrative requirement. Rather, it should help you get the most from your field experiences. It should solidify in your mind what happened, help you analyze the pieces involved, and help you transfer or apply this information to your life. In the paper, please briefly describe the course you were enrolled in and then address each objective under its own subheading. Explain how your experiences on your Jack Mountain Program course affected your growth in each area. You are encouraged to support your opinions using properly documented references (APA format). This could include leadership, teaching, or environmental books and articles. Your paper should not be a copy of your journal or simply a documentation of what happened every day of your course. Rather focus on what you were learning using course experience as the backdrop. Describe what you were thinking about and the concepts you formed or accepted. Explain how you might apply this new knowledge to your current life. You can include pictures, poems, graphs, etc. to help you communicate.

Your paper must be typed and double spaced with a cover page, followed by a running heading and page number on each page of the text. Correct grammar and spelling is expected. Careless errors will distract from your presentation and will affect your grade. Use 12 point Times New Roman font and one inch margins. Please keep in mind that this paper should document a learning experience that is equivalent to the credits requested. For example, how much learning and work are required of someone in a three credit class during a full college semester? How much would be required if they were taking a full load of 12 credits for this semester? Please write your paper with that in mind. The length, usually results in approximately two pages per credit, and depth of your paper should be somewhat related to the number of credits you are requesting. Your paper will be evaluated on the following basis: 20% for proper format and clarity in your writing and 80% for content, including adequate and honest coverage assessing your fulfillment of the learning objectives.

Western State College will award credit, as well as a final grade, after you have successfully completed your Jack Mountain Program course based on your field instructor's evaluation, your satisfactory written analysis of the course, and after full payment of tuition has been received. Your final paper and instructor evaluations are due within three weeks after the completion of your Jack Mountain Program course. You must e-mail your paper to extendedstudies@western.edu. After e-mailing your paper, continue to check your e-mail as a reply confirming the arrival of your paper will be sent within 72 hours. If you do not receive that confirmation, resend your paper. If we have not received your paper four weeks after the course we will make one last attempt to contact you. Sending a late paper will result in a lower grade. If no paper is received five weeks after completion of your course, a grade of unsatisfactory, "F", will be recorded. Please contact this office if you have questions or legitimate concerns with this policy.

OBJECTIVE #1: LEADERSHIP AND TEACHING SKILLS

Jack Mountain Program typically gives many opportunities for students to develop their leadership and teaching skills. Describe how different leadership styles impacted you and your course. Discuss how your leadership skills improved. How did your "leader of the day" go? What did you do well, what do you need to improve on? What feedback did you receive from the group? How will you use this outside of Jack Mountain Program?

Teaching is also a big part of these courses. What impressed you about the teaching you observed and experienced? What did you teach? What did you learn from that experience?

Jack Mountain Program Course
D. Learning Objectives/Written Paper - continued

OBJECTIVE #2: TECHNICAL SKILLS

Discuss the specific skills and techniques learned on each component of the course. You were exposed to skills necessary for traveling in the backcountry, wilderness areas, on water and in areas such as climbing. Which do you feel you are competent enough to travel on your own or with a group without a hired guide?

Safety is always emphasized. Assessing risk and deciding which risk to take is different for groups and for individuals. Give an example of a risk that wasn't taken or was modified in order to keep your group safe. How will you determine which risks you will take in your life after completing this course? How has your judgment changed as a result of this experience?

OBJECTIVE #3: COMMUNICATION AND TEAM BUILDING

Good communication is essential for a successful course. Describe your groups attempt to communicate well and become a team. How did the instructors impact that process? What activities helped you learn to communicate better? Give at least three examples of times when your group communicated well and how that impacted the group. Describe at least two times communication was poor and how that affected your group.

When your group became a smoothly working team how did that feel? If you didn't reach that level, and reflecting back on your experience, how could you have changed that? What have you learned about good communication that you can now use in groups?

OBJECTIVE #4: ENVIRONMENTAL PRACTICES AND SAFETY AWARENESS

Each environment you experienced called for particular techniques in order to preserve that ecosystem. Describe what LNT practices you learned for each environment. If they were different, why? You are now at home or at least in a different environment. How will you show respect for the earth and the resources you are using in your daily life?

Students who took courses which interacted with another cultures must also write about that experience. Describe the key characteristics of that culture and how those were different than yours. Discuss how that influenced your experience and your world view. Reflect on and write about your role in the world.

Service is a component of most courses. Indicate whether you did service projects and what they were. Is service important? Why? What did your group gain by involving yourselves for the benefit of others? How will this become part of your lifestyle?

OBJECTIVE #5: SELF GROWTH AND SERVICE

You have spent a week to a semester immersing yourself in this course. Earth based education states there is inherent value in learning and understanding the skills of how to live in the natural world, because it is, and always has been, our home. Does your growth reflect that? Describe areas of growth that you experienced. What are you most pleased with yourself? For those loved ones to whom you have returned, what would they say is most wonderful about the new you? If you have not allowed them to see a new you, why not?
