DEED OF GIFT

In accordance with the terms and conditions set forth herein, I (we)

_____, and _____ (the “Donor(s)”), as sole owner(s) and/or author(s) of materials described in the attached Exhibit A (the Materials”), which is made a part hereof, do hereby convey, transfer, assign and deliver my rights, title, interest and any literary rights the Donor possesses in the Materials to the Trustees of Western State College of Colorado for the use and benefit of Western State College of Colorado (the “College”).

1. The Donor hereby warrants that it has good and clear title to the Materials and agrees to indemnify and hold the College harmless from any claim, liability, action, damages or suit arising out of an alleged defect in the Donor’s title to the Materials.
2. The College shall deposit the Materials in a depository which in its sole discretion it deems suitable for the Materials and shall maintain and preserve the Materials in accordance with standard archival practices.
3. The College shall make the Materials available to the public in accordance with its standard practices and the copyright laws of the United States, as amended from time to time, without any restrictions except for lawful and reasonable restrictions imposed by the Donor as a condition of the gift. Any restrictions imposed by the Donor are described hereinafter together with a date on which the restrictions shall expire. The College shall refuse to accept or shall return the Materials if in its judgment the restrictions imposed by the Donor are unlawful or unreasonable.
4. The College shall determine in its sole discretion what uses shall be made of the Materials. The College shall refuse to accept, shall return or shall dispose of any Materials which it determines to have no permanent value or historical interest, or which it cannot permanently house.
